About myself	I am an undergraduate student majoring in management. In addition, I have been teaching children in kindergarten to learn Chinese for one and a half years, and tutoring middle school students to learn Chinese and help them take exams. During this period, I have continuously improved my professional ability and strived to provide students with better teaching services. In terms of Chinese teaching, I have solid professional knowledge and rich teaching skills. I am familiar with a variety of teaching methods, such as heuristic teaching, situational teaching, etc., and can use them flexibly according to the actual situation of students. In terms of classroom organization, I focus on creating a relaxed and pleasant learning atmosphere and stimulating students' interest in learning. In terms of interactive strategies, I am good at guiding students to conduct group discussions, role-playing and other activities to improve their language application ability. In addition, I also have strong cross-cultural communication skills, can establish a good teacher-student relationship with students, and promote mutual understanding and trust. In terms of pre-class preparation, I will formulate a detailed teaching plan according to the needs and levels of students to ensure that the teaching content is both in line with the syllabus and close to the actual situation of students.
