About myself	I am an enthusiastic and dedicated Early Years specialist with nine years of teaching experience, primarily in Early Years and international settings. Passionate about fostering curiosity, imagination, and resilience in young learners, I am committed to inspiring children to develop a love for learning, become ambitious, and achieve their full potential in a safe, nurturing, and play-based environment. With experience leading teams as a Year Leader, I excel at implementing engaging, inquiry-based learning that align with international frameworks, promoting creativity, critical thinking, and foundational skills. Skilled in collaborating with diverse teams, mentoring colleagues, and building strong relationships with families, I ensure a consistent and supportive approach to education. Committed to continuous professional growth, I strive to deliver high-quality early childhood education that supports children's holistic development and instils a lifelong passion for learning.

North London Collegiate School

Early Year Specialist/English Tutor, UAE, Dubai

My role includes

- Looking after the health and well-being of the child
- Observing children's progress and development, and keeping a record of this to communicate with parents.
- Helping children to develop core skills, such as mathematics and literacy. This could be by reading stories and playing counting games.
- Providing a safe and enabling environment for children to learn in.
- Supporting children by implementing the requirements of the Early Years Foundation Stage Framework.
- Taking children on trips or outings outside their usual learning environment.
- Encouraging physical activities to keep children active.
- Supporting children's mental health, fostering an environment where children find help if they need it. This may include working with other teams to prevent or solve any issues.
- Boosting life skills, such as cooking or using money, through age-appropriate activities.
- Supporting communication and social skills to help children interact with those around them.
- Helping children with their individual educational needs. Some practitioners may have specific training to cater to specific needs.
